I have really looked at some of my stuck-ness in this programme. I identified where I am limiting myself, and where I need to let go in order to be.

I have been inspired to tackle my life using all the abilities and spirit I have within me, and to just allow this to surface and carry me to where I will go.

Not to be attacked, to work hard and be committed, to see the sky and hear the rivers, to feel the love and listen to the authentic voice deep within. Although parts were frustrating and difficult for me, I do know that these were projections of myself and my own frustrations and difficulties inside myself.

I have enjoyed the people I have met and am grateful that I have been able to participate.
